DARTS NEWS

Yes, it's back - the one section of the B.C. newsletter that grips everyone with fascination and excitement as they read of all the tales of derring-do on the dartboards of the city of Amarits.

When questioned as to the reasons for the non-appearance of the darticle in the last news, the following quotes were elicited from certain Lilywhites: Nai V, back from his banishment to the far bars of Bhuket: "I ran out of carrier pigeons". Brian Heath, back from leave: "I've been in Derby so long, I've forgotten how to write" and Bryan Cornish: "After two or three lines my darts ran out of link". Your dartscribe hastens to add that there is absolutely no truth in the rumour that the non-appearance was caused by the signing up of all the Lilywhites by a certain Mr. Lek K. to play for Rendezvous this league!

After the ignominious defeat at the hands of Bert Hobson's Embassy Golfers, the Lilywhites proceeded to set yet another dazzling record of dartistry in the next two league games: Points for 1, points against 29. At this point it was decided that deputy-Nai Arthur should take up something more akin to his organisational abilities - like ikebana, and he promptly disappeared to the land of the rising yen. Old habits die hard though, and he was last reported sitting half-way up Mt Fuji throwing twigs of blackthorn at a sunflower head with numbers painted on it.

The deputy Nai-ship then passed on to 'Oggie' Polglase, who promptly led the team to a further two defeats and at this stage there was heard the murmuring of 'come back captain, the end is nai!' The only dart of note thrown so far in the league by a Lilywhite had been

Brian Kane's bull finish against B.T. Audio and any one knowing of Mr. Kane's present whereabouts is requested to inform the captain, as this gentleman is wanted for questioning in connection with the sudden disappearance of all ability from the darts team. However, the redoubtable Oggie did manage to lead his team to two victories, an 8-7 league win over Ladda B and a 10-5 knock out win over Our Place.

But never fear, avid followers of the Lilywhites, Nai V is back and once more, with his promises of free-flowing Amarit, is inspiring his intrepid troops to greater things. The first encounter was against Rendezvous, and although it resulted in an 11-4 defeat, the Lilywhites were throwing some of their best darts of the league so far, none more so than Mike Dutton who was throwing his darts like six inch nails (blunt end first) until someone contrived to knock over his prized whisky soda, whereupon Mike immediately responded with a 140. (Anyone wishing to apply for the job of official Dutton booze spiller should first consult the captain). This was followed by a 9-6 victory over 20 Hotel, a rather uninspiring game, but one in which was witnessed a rare event - a whitewash for Ben. Needless to say, Nai V proved his worth by throwing a double 1 to clinch the team game and victory for the Lilywhites.

Before closing your dartscribe must thank Messrs. Heath, Greenwood, Gundlach, Barrett, Gwilliam, Dutton, Adcock and Cobbett for winning the R.B.A. Cantopher darts cup at the recent O.E.S.A. games night, a most enjoyable evening which we hope will be repeated in the not too distant future.

SOCCER SECTION REPORT
The British Club Soccer Team 1976/78

After a season spent quietly rebuilding last year, we have our eyes firmly set-on winning the championship again, particularly since this 10th anniversary year of the Farang Soccer League is likely to be the most competitive to date with most of the teams being very evenly matched.

Meanwhile we can take this opportunity to remember several of the old faces who contributed to past successes of the B.C. team.

In the early days it was the Royal Engineers who were winning the trophy until our "Special Forces" took over at S.E.A.T.O. early this decade. During this period none contributed more to our glory than Mike Gallagher, Fred Wright, and Fred Lucas. In fact Gallagher claimed he was once asked for trials with Leeds United, but could not raise the bus fare, so missing his chance of the Big Time. Probably the most lethal centre forward to play in the league, we hear he's still playing for the army in Germany, but learning many dastardly continental tricks before falling over in the opponents penalty area - a simple "dive" was always good enough.

Probably the strongest teams we fielded were during the 74/75 and 75/76 seasons and from those years we've bid farewell to Ross (Teapot) Moodie, Tony (Chopper) Bardini, Neville (Legs) Boyce and Tommy Robertson. Both Ross and Tommy hailed from north of the border and we understand they are continuing their elocution lessons since we couldn't understand either of them, nor they each other. Not surprising perhaps considering one supported Celtic and the other Rangers. Tony Bardini is rumoured to be the driving force behind the rising popularity of soccer in the U.S.A., although he's not had a haircut since 1974, when a certain barber on Sukhumvit presumed he was joining the Monkhood. That haircut was the only injury Bardini suffered during an outstanding career in Bangkok.

Old hands playing for the B.C. this season are fewer than before but we've plenty of talent coming up through the youth team. Not least of course is Tony Trail, a native of Salisbury from whom we are expecting great things this season. Following Tony from the youth team will be John Davis who is tipped to be this seasons most promising player and its no secret Ron Greenwood has already made enquiries about his availability for England.

Captain this year is Geoff Smith a man who needs no introduction, since his knees are now world famous. It's rumoured he bathes them everynight in some super secret lubricant. Geoff will be supported by Dave Cobbett as vice-captain, a player who has filled the gap left by Nobby Stiles in world class soccer. He's been known to run 60 yards before tripping over the ball. John Lenaghan our midfield dynamo reached stardom three years ago after being requested to take the early bath. A devastating striker, his right foot and right hook are shots worth watching. Finally, John Robbins our stalwart goalkeeper for three seasons is finally being promoted, and although Gordon Banks spoke highly of his ability, this year we'll be relying on John as our penultimate line of defence-sweeper!

Once again our best wishes to our opponents, we trust there will be many keenly contested and exciting games. Our thanks also to all involved in running the League, particularly to Gunter Glomb and Sukit Chitranukroh for their time and enthusiasm over the past years and also to the principals of I.S.B. who have allowed us the use of their field.

Meanwhile, our condolences to Maurice Bowra of our old rivals the Cosmos, whose dreams of bulging nets are apparently no longer vivid. This year the B.C. will be donating a special cup to be awarded to the championship runners up.

Looking for the finest oil in the world? Look for this big red, white and green sign.

For over 75 years, Castrol's sole purpose has been to develop oils and lubricants of unsurpassed quality. 1899 saw the dawn of a new mechanical age. It took men of vision and genius to invest in its development. One such man was Charles Wakefield. He foresaw the beginnings of a massive new technology and a vast new market for lubricants. In 1909, he introduced a name destined to become world famous. Castrol.

In 1924 Malcolm Campbell, in his Napier, pushed the world land speed record to 147 mph. On Castrol oil.

Ever since its inception, Castrol has concentrated on oils and lubricants only. Never petrol, because Wakefield realised that the secret to better engine performance and longer engine life lay in lubricants and oils of unsurpassed quality.

During World War I Castrol introduced the legendary Castrol R. Giving British aircraft enormous advantages over the enemy. Enabling them to fly in colder conditions and higher altitudes. With the advent of higher compression engines, Castrol developed and perfected an oil exactly suited to these needs. Castrol XL.

In 1935, Sir Malcolm Campbell, as he then he was, broke the 300 mph barrier. On Castrol oil.

Cars became faster, lighter and were powered by higher revving engines. Once again Castrol anticipated the trend and pioneered the world's first oil with additives. Patent Castrol. In 1953, Castrol launched Castrolite, the world's first ever multigrade oil.

As cars developed, so did Castrol. In 1953 Castrol pioneered the world's first multigrade oil, for cars like this 16 cylinder B.M.W.

T.T. RACES
ALL WON ON CASTROL
Even as far back as 1930 top bike riders were using Castrol oil. This poster announces the winner of the winning oil.

The Jet age. Once again Castrol met the challenge. Producing the world's finest jet engine lubricants. Castrol 98. The 1960s brought front wheel drive and overhead camshafts. Higher power outputs than ever before. Castrol developed a new revolutionary antiwear additive. Liquid Tungsten. By the 1970s, family cars were moving faster than yesterdays sports cars. And so to the ultimate oil. Castrol GTX, the high performer. Britain's leading motor oil.

In the 1960's, works Mini Coopers like this beat the rest of the world. On Castrol oil.

Today, the name Castrol is synonymous with quality lubrication. Each year, miles and miles of gruelling competition and high performance motoring further endorses the quality and durability of Castrol oils and lubricants. All are available here, in Thailand. Wherever you see the big Castrol red, white and green sign. Use Castrol oils, you get over 75 years proven experience in every drop.
